Eli Mc Kinley Arbogast, son of George Arbogast and Elizabeth Hullinger,

Can number among his ancestors two of the early settlers of this part of Ohio, and he himself was born in this county, and has ever since made his home here, with the exception of a year elsewhere. In his business as a contractor and builder he has done a great deal to promote the growth of Springfield, his place of residence, and the surrounding country. When he came here in early manhood the city was but a village of three or four thousand people, and he has seen it grow from a mere commercial town, the metropolis of an agricultural community, to be one of the most flourishing manufacturing cities in the State, with a population of nearly forty thousand inhabitants.

Mr. Arbogast was born in Moorefield Township, March 4, 1830, a son of George ARBOGAST, who was born in Pendleton County, Va., August 10, 1793, a son of Michael ARBOGAST, a native of the same State. His father, great-grandfather of our subject, was born in Germany, and coming to America in Colonial times, he settled in Virginia, and eventually died there. The grandfather of our subject was reared to agricultural pursuits on his father's plantation, in the Old Dominion, and made his home in that commonwealth until 1816, when he emigrated to Ohio, accompanied by his wife and their five sons and two daughters—George, Silas, Eli, Enoch, Solomon, Elizabeth and Abbie. He settled in that part of Champaign County now included in Clark County, buying a tract of land in Moorefield Township, of which he thus became one of the earliest settlers, and where he resided until his mortal career was closed by death. The maiden name of his wife was BUZZARD.

The father of our subject was the eldest son of the family, and at the time of their location in Clark County it was a wilderness, with deer, wolves and other wild animals haunting it, and he being an expert marksman, won a reputation as a skilled deer hunter. He bought a tract of land in Moorefield Township, and engaged in farming there for a long time with good profit, accumulating considerable property, but he lost it all by going security for some friends. He subsequently removed to Springfield Township, and there his life was rounded out by death in the month of April, 1868. He had lived to see the county quite well developed, with fine farms, busy towns, and flourishing cities, where he once saw but primeval forests, wild prairies and uncultivated meadows, with settlements few and scattering. The maiden name of his wife was Elizabeth HULLINGER, who was a native of Pennsylvania. Her father was Daniel HULLINGER, and early pioneer of Ohio, coming to this State in 1816, and settling in Champaign County, near Fremont, where he improved a good farm, upon which he spent his last days. The maiden name of his wife was SHACKEY. The mother of our subject died in Springfield Township, in July 1867. She and her husband were the parents of sixteen children, of whom the following thirteen were reared to maturity: Eliza, Melinda, Catherine, Nancy, Enoch G., Matilda, Eli M., Charles, Harvey, Seth, William H. John and Isaac.

Eli McKinley ARBOGAST was reared and educated in this county, and at the age of eighteen commenced to learn the carpenter's trade, serving an apprenticeship of three years, and becoming a master of his chosen calling in all its details. He then did "jour" work until 1857, when he established himself as a contractor and builder, and has ever since carried it on with excellent pecuniary results in this county, with the exception of a year's residence in Dayton. He has always conducted a thriving business, erecting many residence buildings, etc., in this city, and even carrying on his building operations in other parts of the county, and has gathered together a comfortable amount of property, and by wise investments of his money has increased his bank account.

During the long years of his residence in this city his fellow-citizens have always found him prompt, truthful and even dealing in all his business transactions, in which, moreover, he has displayed excellent discernment and sound sense. He and his estimable wife are members in high standing of the St. Paul Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he is a Trustee, and they are earnest in their endeavors to further the cause of religion. Mr. ARBOGAST first joined the church on Columbia Street, and later connected himself with the Center Street Church, and subsequently severed his connection with that church upon the organization of the St. Paul Society, with which he has since been identified. He belongs to the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, as a member of Springfield Lodge, No. 33. Mr. ARBOGAST has been blest in his domestic relations. He has been twice married. November 6, 1851, he was married to Catherine COFFIELD, a native of Butler County, Ohio, and a daughter of John COFFIELD. After a happy wedded life of twenty-seven years that woman of sainted memory passed to her reward, and her household knew the comfort of her presence no more, her death occurring November 11, 1878, five days after the anniversary of her wedding. Of that union our subject has three children—John, George and William. The marriage of our subject to his present amiable and true wife, who devotes herself to making his home pleasant, took place December 27, 1880. She has also been twice married. Her maiden name was Annie GANO, and she was born in Asbury, Hunterdon County, N. J., May 6, 1841. She was first married June 15, 1857, to Johnson ELLIOTT.

He was an attorney and practiced his profession first in Bucyrus, this State, and later in Wapakoneta, the county seat of Auglaize County, and there he died while yet not far past the prime of his life. Mrs. ARBOGAST'S father, William GANO was born in Asbury, N. J., while his father, Asher GANO, is thought to have been born in either Germany or Pennsylvania of German parentage. He was a well-to-do farmer, owning a large farm near Asbury and died there. Mrs. Arbogast's father followed the trade of a carpenter in Asbury until 1842, and then left New Jersey to make a new home in Ohio, and located near West Liberty, in Logan County, and died in 1844, in the home that he purchased there. The maiden name of his wife was Jemima SMITT. She was born in Asbury, and was a daughter of Joseph SMITT, who was a farmer and spent his last years in New Jersey. The maiden name of his wife was WYKOFF. She was native of New Jersey, and a life-long resident of the State. Mrs. ARBOGAST'S mother spent her last years with her children, and died at the advanced age of eighty-four years.

Catherine married Joseph Mullenax, son of James Mullenax and Mary Arbogast. Another son of James and Mary, Jacob Mullenax was married Hannah Arbogast, daughter of George and Catherine (Yeager) Arbogast. Elizabeth married Thomas McKinnon; Silas married Hannah Coulter; Enoch married Polly Anzel, and Solomon married Mary Barrington.

Thomas McKinnon son of Daniel and Nancy (Harrison) McKinnon and Hanna daughter of William Coulter. Michael Arbogast, Jr., his wife, Barbara, and their children, went to Clark County, Ohio in about 1811-1812, most likely with his brothers, David and Peter, and their families. Michael Arbogast, Jr. died in 1813, some records state he was killed in an accident. David later settled in Madison County, Indiana, where he died. This migration of David to Indiana was after 1830 as he was listed in the 1830 Federal Census of Clark County, Ohio and it showed him to be between the ages of 60-70. Probably with his son William, same census 1830.

Joseph Mulanax, was born in about 1795 in Virginia and died on Apr 12, 1864 in Greene County, Missouri. His first wife was Kate Arbogast daughter of Michael Arbogast, Jr. and Barbara Buzzard. Kate died in Madison County, Indiana and Joseph married Mary Ann Davis in the same county in 1836.

Josenh Mulanax and his family were part of the great migration Westward to settle and make homes in the wilderness. From Virginia he pioneered in Clark

County, Ohio; then in Madison County, Indiana, and finally in Greene County, Missouri where he lived until he died in 1864 at the age of 69

Joseph was a farmer most of his life. He and his family were still in Clark County, Ohio in 1830 as the 1830 Federal Census of this state indicated. He and Kate had 2 sons and 1 daughters at that time. It was sometime after 1830 that Joseph Mullenax and his family, along with other friends and relatives, migrated to Madison County, Indiana. Kate's uncle, David Arbogast, and his family also migrated to Madison County, Indiana,

There were three Arbogast men who bought land in Madison County, Indiana in the 1830's. They were: Jesse Arbogast, Isaac Arbogast and Jacob Arbogast. Isaac and Jacob son of David, and Jesse son of Isaac.

Eli McKinley Arbogast and Nancy Henkle .

Nancy daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth (Forsee) Henkle

Jacob son of Reverend Anthony Jacob Hinkle and Mary Teter

This old gentleman and early pioneer of Clark County was born in Pendleton Co., Va., November 2, 1799. In the fall of 1811 his father, Michael Arbogast, emigrated to Ohio, and located on the Buck Creek, in what is now Moorefield Township, Clark County. Here Mr. Arbogast died in 1813, and Mrs. Arbogast in 1824. The family comprised five sons and two daughters, of whom the subject of this sketch was the third son, and he and his sister, Mrs. Thomas McKinnon, of Union County, Ohio, are all that are now living. Shortly before his death Mr. Arbogast had entered a half section of land, and his deceased left his family with a debt of the larger portion of the purchase-money hanging over the property. By the hardest struggles, however, of the widow and her children, the debt was liquidated, and the family had a start in the world.

On April 1, 1823, Mr. Eli Arbogast married Miss Nancy Henkle, who was born in Virginia, September 12, 1801. For twelve years subsequent to his marriage Mr. Arbogast lived on rented land, and in the spring of 1835 he bought the property upon which he now resides. His family has numbered nine children, only three of whom are now living, viz., Mrs. Adam Brandle, who was married September 17, 1843; John F. Arbogast; and Mrs. John Marsh, who was married November 25, 1869. Mr. Marsh died October 27, 1870. On the 20th of May, 1863, Mr. John Arbogast very narrowly escaped being killed by being crushed under a falling building. The only thing that saved his life was a small evaluation in the ground that held up a portion of the structure, and so kept it from resting its whole weight upon his body. The accident resulted, however, in the breaking of his right limbs, and also in a serious injury to the spine. Since then Mr. Arbogast has been entirely laid aside from active labor, and at times is the subject of no small amount of pain.

On September 27, 1866, the subject of this narrative was called to mourn the loss of his companion, who died at the age of sixty-five years and fifteen days." 'Illustrated Historical Atlas of Clark Co., Ohio
